BETWEEN THE LINES

Welcome to DISNEY COMICS

We're glad you could join us. What you're holding in your hands is something of a milestone. For the first time in its 55 year history, you're reading Disney Comics that are truly DISNEY COMICS.

In the past, Disney has licensed its world-famous characters to other publishers; Dell, Gold Key, Gladstone, et. al. But now, as some of our advertising has been saying, the gang has finally come home to roost. From this month forward, Mickey, Donald, and all your other favorites will be published under the auspices of The Walt Disney Company itself.

All of us here at Disney Comics (myself; our editors, Bob Foster, David Seidman, and David Cody Weiss; our peerless one-woman production department, Cris Palomino; our Publisher, Randy Achee; and all the others who make what we do here from month to month possible) are bound and determined to produce the BEST darn Disney Comics you've ever read. We'll be introducing new talents and new directions, while retaining all the warmth and wonder that has made Disney a household word the world over.

This will be our forum to speak to you each month about all the news and surprises we have in store for you. Your comments on our eight ongoing monthly titles will be dealt with in each book's letter column. All in all, we hope to begin an exciting exchange of observations and ideas. As has been said so many times before, you are the real editors of these titles and your opinions matter to us.

So pull up a chair, get nice and comfortable, and brace yourself for a journey into new adventures with some old and trusted friends. It promises to be a most exciting trip.

Set VI of The Carl Barks Library is now available!

Carl Barks is the master comic book artist who wrote and drew over 500 stories featuring Donald Duck, Huey, Dewey and Louie, Uncle Scrooge, Gyro Gearloose, Gladstone Gander, and many other Walt Disney characters. His stories are among the most beloved and sought after of all time and many of the original comic books his work appeared in have become expensive, hard-to-find collector's items.

But Barks deserves to be read, so Another Rainbow is collecting his Disney stories into an oversized, ten-set, thirty-volume hardcover encyclopedia called The Carl Barks Library. Each set of three 9" x 12" books comes in a colorful handmade slipcase illustrated with a Carl Barks cover. The interior artwork is clearly printed in crisp black and white, just as Barks originally drew it. Details that were hidden by sloppy color before now leap off the pages. The original comic book covers and many special features are reproduced in full color on slick paper.

Set VI is the great catch-all set of the Library that collectors have been waiting for for so long! It has all of the rare giveaways, annual giants and miscellaneous stories starring Donald Duck and his nephews, the irrepressible Uncle Scrooge McDuck, Gyro Gearloose, and others that are so hard to find today in their original editions!

The retail price for each carefully produced three-volume set is $110.00 except for this complex, special set VI which sells for $125.00. These books are available only from selected comic book specialty shops, or directly from the publisher. You can buy one set at a time, or subscribe to the entire Library at a substantial savings. To order Set VI, or to obtain more information about the contents of previous releases and details on subscriptions, send in the handy coupon at right.

I GOT MUH OWN LETTER COLUMN!

Send to: Disney Comics, 500 South Buena Vista Street
Burbank, California 91521

Who's the greatest hero of all time? Who throughout history has outwitted the villains, braved the elements, won the battles? Who in classics of literature has inspired awe for his strength, his intellect, his nobility of purpose?

Could it be --

You're darn right it could!

For the first time in far too many years, the world's most lovable clown has a comic of his own in America. Goofy Adventures is a wacky romp through history and literature with Disney's silliest superstar. Whether he's Sherlock Goofy solving mysteries or Attila the Goof rampaging through Asia, Wyatt Goof facing down desperados or Goofeo (of Goofeo and Juliet) engaging in tender romance, our hero is at center stage, grappling with the greatest challenges of all time--and making a mess of them.

Guiding Goofy through these parodies of history's heroes are some of the most talented creators in comics. Unlike other comics, Goofy Adventures has no single team creating all of its stories, so you never know who might appear in these pages.

This issue's contributors include Mike Kazaleh, who wrote "Balboa de Goofy." He's created his own comic, Captain Jack, plus stories for Critters, Anything Goes, Doomsday Patrol, and the Roger Rabbit graphic novel, The Resurrection of Doom. Mike has also done animation for such television series as Tiny Toons, The Simpsons, and Mighty Mouse, and various productions for his own studio.

"Balboa de Goofy"--and our cover--were drawn by the talented Rick Hoover. Rick's been a staff artist at Hanna-Barbera and Filmation, assistant art director for Western Publishing, and the artist on Disney's Gummi Bears comic strip and future Goofy Adventures stories.

The man who colored "Balboa de Goofy," Tom Luth, has drawn and designed for a wide array of clients. As a comics colorist, he's done Groo the Wanderer, Hawkmoon, and Usagi Yojimbo.

"Goofy Frankenstein," our backup story, was written by Greg Crosby. Greg's been at Disney for 20 years, starting out animating on the movie Bedknobs and Broomsticks, then moving to storyboarding. Later, Greg joined the staff of Character Merchandising, which oversaw all Disney products. Today, Greg is Vice President in charge of Creative Services Publications, which supervises Disney publications.

The artists on "Goofy Frankenstein" are Hector de Urtiaga and Nestor Torreiro of the Jaime Diaz Studios. Jaime Diaz began working with Disney art in 1975, and Hector and Nestor have drawing Disney comics for him ever since. You can find more Jaime Diaz Studio work in the Disney Comics DuckTales, Chip 'N Dale Rescue Rangers, and future issues of Goofy Adventures.

"Goofy Frankenstein's" colorist is Janice Cohen, who has colored for all of the major comics companies. Among her favorite assignments are the Spider-Man comic strip, The Incredible Hulk, Warp and Goofy Adventures.

And now for the future! Next issue features the conclusion of "Goofy Frankenstein"; "Goofy Peary Discovers the North Pole" by Cal Howard and Rick Hoover; "The Goof Brothers at Kitty Hawk" by Joshua Quagmire and the Jaime Diaz Stu-

Quagmire and the Jaime Diaz Studios; a cover by Hoover; and a surprise by Hector Urtiaga and Mike Royer.

Other issues will feature "Once Upon a Time in the Neolithic," "Goofy Mozart," "Captain Goofy and Pirate Pete," and much more!

So hang on tight. It's a wild race through history and literature with Goofy Adventures!

And now, something terribly important: we need letters!

Tell us what you like and don't like about this issue. We can't print everything that you send, but we will read it all.

Keep your letter short; the shorter it is, the letters more we can print. Type it if you can; if not, print it or write in handwriting that's clear and legible.

As a sidelight, your letters will create an ongoing feature of this column: the Request Poll!

If you want Goofy to portray a particular person (or people), let us know. Don't send long lists; three or four names will be plenty. If a lot of readers request the same person, we'll see about running an appropriate parody.

Thanks for your help. See you in a month!

David Seidman
